

Crisis Center

WE WANT YOU TO JOIN OUR BOARD!

Located in Douglas County and serving the south Denver Metro area, the Crisis Center offers FREE & CONFIDENTIAL programs and services for adults and children who have been impacted by domestic violence.

Emergency Shelter: Short-term safety for those in imminent danger.

Therapy: Individual and group therapy for adults and children by Masters-level clinicians.

Legal Advocacy: Information and assistance about protection orders, child custody issues, and legal separation.

Community Advocacy: Helps adults protect themselves and their children from further violence by utilizing community resources.

Crisis Center's 24-Hour
Crisis Line: 303-688-8484

Get Involved! You Can Make A Difference!

While the Crisis Center exists to end domestic violence through programs, prevention, and education, we realize that there are greater social systems and social norms that support and allow domestic violence, sexual assault and child abuse to continue.

Because of this, the Crisis Center's foundation of understanding diversity, equity and inclusion is fundamental to our work. We define diversity, equity and inclusion by valuing the richness and complexity of individual identities, beliefs, experiences, traditions and values; understanding that the historical and social context of peoples' experiences may include ongoing oppression and discrimination.

The Crisis Center's Board of Directors has a strong foundation in leadership, hard work, collaboration and respect. As a board member, you will help provide high-level governance, long-term strategic planning, donor engagement, fundraising and support and direction for the executive director.

The Board of Directors looks for candidates with a wide array of expertise that will enhance the current board, as well as support the agency in sustainable growth. The Board values candidates from diverse backgrounds and cultures.
